family Troubles Ended-Bursy Day in Police Court-Fire on Douglas Avenue,

The Young Men's Mutual Improvement stake board met last night in the ofice of Supt. J. L. Herrick with a large attendance. This is the first meeting of the season and appointments were made for all the members of the board to different wards of the stake with a view to get them in readiness for the season's work. Indications auger a most profitable year for the Mutual improvement cause.

Mrs. Yeager has returned to her home and promises to returned to her home and promises to be a loving and dutiful wife, while Mr. Yeager is to be a model husband and set an example to his countrymen for many miles around. It is understood that Mrs. Yeager will withdraw the action for divorce filed by her in the second district court a few days ago. Countryman is perfectly willing to leave the Yeager household in charge of its own affairs. Yeager is reputed to be somewhat of a puglist, and judging from the cuffing that Countryman received from him after the pitchfork had been taken in charge by a bystander, Yeager deserves this reputation. To sum the story up in few words, the sum the story up in few words, the Yeager family trouble is settled. Coun-tryman will be charged with assault.
